Neil Placky is a successful mystery novelist, and college professor. Placky's latest literary contribution is a twenty-story anthology entitled "Surfer Boys." Inspired by his first trip to California and the shores of Huntington Beach, Neil fell in love with the surfer aesthetic immediately and translated this to his writing. "Surfer Boys," showcases surfer adventures from every age and place. The stories here span the globe, but what they all have in common is handsome, sexy surfers who love other men. Within "Surfer Boy's," there is something to be discovered by every surf lover. You'll journey to Australia, Tunisia, Oregon, Cape Cod, and Malibu among many other delightful destinations.

Neil Placky is an associate professor of English at Broward College. He has written four mystery novels Mahu, Mahu Surfer, Mahu Fire, and Mahu Vice, and co-editor of Paws and Reflect: A Special Bond Between Man and Dog. His erotica has been featured in many anthologies and gay magazines. He lives, loves, and writes in beautiful Hawaii.
